Personal Background and Special Interests:

I was born on January 22, 1994 in Dasmariñas, Cavite. I am fluent in English and Filipino. My hobbies include hiking and spelunking. Despite my medical background, I have realized that I am less passionate about clinical practice and appreciate it more from an academic and theoretical perspective. I am currently interested in exploring careers in web development and software development. I am goal-oriented and highly motivated to learn in order to leave a positive impact on society.
